FOBAS Announcement: IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT please note our NEW e-mail address for sample collections, sample kit and consumable requests

Applicability: All FOBAS Clients and Vessels

With the aim to gain more control of the FOBAS logistics service, we have made the decision to bring the logistics function in-house whereby all logistical matters will be handled by Lloyd's Register personnel.

We are currently in a transition phase from our current provider, Sample Logistics, and seek your assistance to ensure that the transition is smooth and problem free. To achieve this, we have one simple request which is as follows.

With immediate effect, please forward all communications regarding sample shipments, sample kits, consumable orders and all logistical enquiries to the following email address:

FOBASsamples@lr.org

Please update your records and/or databases with this new email address. We would ask that you please communicate this very important change to all of your vessels and agents to ensure that all future requests are received and actioned promptly.

We thank you for your assistance in this matter and will further update you in the coming weeks.
